PHI ETA SIGMA INDUCTS 62 UM STUDENTS

MISSOULA--

Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honor society, welcomed 62 new members into its ranks at the University of Montana May 26.

Invitations to join the society were issued to freshmen who maintained at least an A-minus grade average during the past year.

Officiating at the induction were O. W. Rolfe, a professor in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures and faculty adviser to the society, and student members Jeanie Anderson and Julie Ann Hanson, both of Missoula.

The society was founded as a men's scholastic honorary in 1923. The UM chapter was chartered in 1964. In 1976 membership was opened to women. The society is active on more than 180 university campuses across the nation.
